FACT SHEET

LOCATION

Located along Bali's evocative southern Bukit peninsula, in the heart of Indonesia's premier surf breaks, Suarga Padang Padang redefines the art of mindful luxury travel. The sustainable boutique resort is situated a mere 20 kilometers from Ngurah Rai International Airport (DPS).

RESORT CONCEPT

Suarga Padang Padang is built upon the three pillars of sustainability: environmental, social and economical. A registered applicant of the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC), the resort is predominantly built using recuperated wood from abandoned ironwood pontoons in Borneo, broken down teak houses, old factories, other FSC-certified materials and bamboo.

Most of the resort's structures are built on stilts in effort to preserve the indigenous flora and fauna and to promote natural cooling air circulation. Solar panels power the resort and the resort's gardens and landscaping are engineered as constructed wetlands.

Offering a different kind of luxury, Suarga Padang Padang invites today's 'Rough Luxury Travelers' to experience modern comforts and indulgences, yet at minimal expense to the surrounding environment.
